

LORRAINE DANIELS

GCAA Executive Director

Lorraine P. Daniels has been Executive Director for the Georgia Community Action Association since February 2004. Lorraine is a community action career professional with many years of experience in non-profit management. Before joining the GCAA leadership team, she worked for the Partnership for Community Action (formerly DeKalb EOA) in Decatur, as the Director of Program Operations for 20 years. Prior to her stint at PCA, she served for 10 years as the Director of Career and Employment Development with New Visions for Newport County in Newport, Rhode Island.

Lorraine's inspirational leadership has helped pioneer many family and community initiatives at the local, state and national level. She is recognized for her special abilities in the area of results-oriented management and accountability, community building, collaboration and organizational development.

As Executive Director, she is responsible for coordination and implementation of the Association's strategic goals, management of day-to-day central office functions, resources development, grant writing and professional development and training for Board Members, Executive and Program Staff of Georgia's 20 member agencies.

Lorraine Daniels holds a Community Action Management Certification (CCAM) from the Southeast Association of Community Action Agencies (SEACAA), is a 1994 graduate of Leadership DeKalb, and a member of the American Business Women's Association. She completed her undergraduate coursework at Allegheny Community College and Roger Williams College in Rhode Island where she majored in pre-law political science and behavioral sciences.

Lorraine Daniels is married and has 4 children and 6 grandchildren. She enjoys reading, interior decorating and deep-sea fishing.
